What's the song?

'History Maker'
by Delirious

Where can I buy it?

The single is available in download format only (max cost is just 79p).

Some recommended sites include:

iTunes

www.7digital.co.uk

www.amazon.co.uk

www.play.com

Note: For older people who may not have ever downloaded a single before, why not suggest that they give the money to a younger family member and get them to do it? Also, available only on iTunes only is a 'live version' of the single (both versions count towards the same chart position. Delete this text box when you have read it.

When can I buy it?

When you get home!

Today is the first day of the 'download week'.

All downloads up until Saturday night will count towards the Easter Sunday chart.

Note: It may be worth mentioning that there is a greater chance that the longer you put off something the less likely it will get done. Encourage the people to strike whilst the iron is hot! Delete this text box when you have read it.

Can I download the single more than once?

Yes, up to 3 downloads per person count towards the same chart position. We're encouraging people to download at least twice, as all profits made by the band go to charity –

www.compassionart.tv

*Note: CompassionArt is a charity initiated by Martin Smith's (the leader of the band). Their aim is to create freedom from Poverty.

How else can I get involved?

Pray! Ask God to open up the hearts of people who hear the song - particularly the young people who will be listening to the UK Charts on Easter Sunday, that don't know Christ.
